ABSTRACT

Developed by a team of teachers, parents, school board members, community representatives, patrons, and Idaho State Department of Education specialists, this skills-based scope and sequence guide is organized around a suggested list of spelling skills for the use of teachers of grades 1-6. The guide's purpose is to help build a basis for curriculum development, instructional strategy, and assessment practices, and provide consistency across the state in what is being taught and learned. The guide includes sample assessment methods. The guide lists processes for each skill, thinking levels for each skill, and application of the same three thinking levels to the assessment method. INTRODUCTION

The State Department of Education's Skills-Based Scope and Sequence Guide is organized around a suggested list of skills that all students should know and be able to do at each grade level from kindergarten through sixth grade. This guide will help provide parents, teachers, and students with knowledge of what is being taught in a logical scope and sequence by grade level. The purpose of this guide is to help build a basis for curriculum development, instructional strategy, and assessment practices, and provide consistency across the state in what is being taught and learned. Schools may wish to use the guide as a resource in developing and writing curriculum at the local level.

The guide has been developed as a scope and sequence by a team of teachers, parents, school board members, community representatives, patrons, and State Department of Education specialists. The listed set of skills are to be learned at a factual, applied/analysis, or synthesis/evaluation level. There are sample assessment methods included for teacher use.

How to Use the Skills Based Scope and Sequence Guide

The skills are identified by grade level starting at kindergarten then progressing through the sixth grade. The skills were selected based on knowledge of many classroom teachers, skills identified in scope and sequence charts of the textbooks on the State of Idaho textbook adoption list, skills measured on the Iowa Test of Basic Skills, skills measured on Idaho's direct assessments, and input from educators, patrons, and parents.

There are three processes that a teacher takes the student through for each skill. You will see an X placed in the column next to a skill where it is expected to be introduced, reinforced, and/or finally placed in long term memory. This helps the teacher determine the lesson and amount of repeated practices that will help achieve mastery of the skill.

Once the student achieves the skill the question is how to use it. We have identified three thinking levels for this ability. They are called factual, applied/analysis, and synthesis. The teacher can now develop an assessment to measure the skill. The same three thinking levels may be applied to the assessment chosen by the teacher.

It is our desire that students will be taken through the skills in a logical consistent format. Some students will be able to master the information much faster and should be allowed to progress as fast as possible through the grade levels.

(Title VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964; Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972; Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990.)

It is the policy of the Idaho State Department of Education not to discriminate in any educational programs or activities or in employment practices.

Inquiries regarding compliance with this nondiscriminatory policy may be directed to Dr. Anne C. Fox, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, P.O. Box 83720, Boise, Idaho 83720-0027, (208) 332-6800, or to the Director, Office of Civil Rights, Department of Education, Washington, D.C.
